Tika Terry is a seasoned financial leader with over 20 years of experience, bringing a proven track record of success in accounting and financial operations within growth-oriented manufacturing organizations. Before her current role, Terry honed her skills in core finance functions, developing a deep understanding of the industry.

Terry's journey in finance began with hands-on experience in month-end closing, budgeting, and forecasting, and by her twenties, she was already optimizing cash flow and working capital. Her practical approach and intimate knowledge of financial systems have earned her a reputation as a trusted expert and problem-solver.

As a financial leader, Terry has guided organizations to strengthen financial discipline and scale operations, partnering with executive leadership. Her expertise spans financial reporting, internal controls, payroll, HR administration, and cross-functional collaboration across sales, operations, and supply chain.

Terry's influence extends beyond her immediate roles. Her ability to build lasting relationships has been a key driver of her success, fostering collaboration with diverse teams and stakeholders.

A graduate of the University of Phoenix with a Bachelor of Science in Accountancy, Terry is currently pursuing an MBA. Her entrepreneurial spirit and commitment to excellence have sharpened her business acumen, enabling her to navigate complex financial challenges.

Through her leadership and dedication to financial integrity, Tika Terry continues to make a significant impact.
